Dear Parents and Carers,

Re: Sad News on Rosie Abbott

Thank you, for sending in your ideas on how we can 'Remember Rosie' in school. Rosie's funeral will be taking place on Thursday afternoon, some staff will be attending the funeral

After considering ideas and the requests made by Rosie's family, we have decided that on Thursday we will have a remembrance theme. The perimeter of school marked by the fencing will be decorated in pink ribbons reflecting the colour of the Teenage Cancer Trust - a charity close to Rosie and her family's heart. Staff and pupils in school can, if they so wish, wear 'something pink' on the day. Children will be required to still wear their uniform but can accessorise with, for example, pink socks, pink bows, pink wristband or similar. On the day, we will be collecting donations which will be split between the Teenage Cancer Trust and 'Raise for Rosie'. During the day senior staff will lead assemblies. Whilst staff will discuss the 'something pink' and the charity, the discussions will focus on how even in the most trying of times people can still be resilient and inspirational for others.

After Thursday we will continue to consider how we can best remember Rosie in the future and her time in school.

Yours sincerely,

Mrs C Robinson
Headteacher
